"He delights in mercy" (Micah 7:18)

Where Is God?

by Steve Higginbotham

Probably all of us have been a bit overwhelmed by the events of the past week. The stories of survivors and the tears of those who have lost loved ones have been emotional and draining. As a nation watching the grief of wives who have lost husbands, children who have lost fathers, and parents who have lost children, some are asking the question, "Where is God in all of this?"

May I suggest that the tell-tale signs of God are everywhere! His fingerprints are clearly seen. Just open your eyes and see. God is in the police and firefighters who gave their lives in an effort to save the lives of others. God is in the rescue workers who work tirelessly in an effort to find someone alive. God is in the people who have given blood all across our nation. God is in the sacrifice of millions of dollars that have been so freely donated by Americans to help their fellow citizens. God is in seen in the people praying across our nation. God is in seen in the desire for justice rather than the quick and indiscriminate strike of revenge. God is seen in the ability to distinguish between good and evil.

Oh no, God hasn't abandoned us in this hour. Glimpses of him can be seen almost everywhere you look! The question that remains is whether he can be seen in you. Give it some thought
